

CIPD Certificate in Human Resource Management (CHRM)

The CIPD Certificate in HR Management (CHRM) will develop your ability to evaluate the effectiveness of different HR models and practices, and increase your understanding of the external factors that impact upon HR activities and organisations.

What is CIPD?

CIPD (Chartered Institute of Personnel Development) is one of the world's leading HR and development professional bodies, with over 150,000 members globally. They know what "good HR" looks like and what HR professionals need to know, do and deliver at different stages of their career, no matter if they are specialists or generalists, working internationally or locally. PwC's Academy is an approved provider of CIPD qualifications and is working in Central and Eastern Europe to develop and deliver foundation and intermediate qualifications in HR and Learning and Development.

A CIPD qualification helps you develop key HR knowledge and skills, and gives you professional recognition in the workplace.

Who is CIPD CHRM for?

Certificate in HR Management is suitable for you if you're currently working in the field of HR and wish to extend your knowledge and skills in order to develop your career. You may also be looking to work towards a professional level of membership to gain credibility and recognition.

The ideal candidate will have responsibility for implementing HR policies and strategies and have a need to understand the role of HR in the wider organisational and environmental context.

How do I gain the qualification?

- 1 year study programme certified by CIPD delivered by PwC's Academy.
- 10 training days.
- Webinars and virtual classrooms after each unit (6x60 minutes, case study based).
- Assessment in a form of an essay/case study/report of 3000 words submitted through VLE (Virtual learning environment) to assessors for marking after each unit.
- Self-directed learning (recommended list of reading - books, articles and researches; time investment of approximately the same number of hours as for the classroom training).
- Personal tutor support.
- English language.
